CONSENT TO CHIROPRACTIC EXAMINATION AND TREATMENT

To the patient: Please read this entire document prior to signing it. It is important that you understand the information contained in it. Please ask questions if there is anything that is unclear before you sign.

Information about the Chiropractic Adjustment

The primary treatment used in the clinic is spinal manipulative therapy or the chiropractic adjustment. It is likely that spinal manipulative therapy will be used as part of your treatment. Spinal manipulative therapy includes placement of the doctor's hands or mechanical instruments upon your body in such a way as to mobilize your joints. This movement may cause an audible "pop" or "click," such as experienced when you "crack" your knuckles. You may also feel a sense of movement.

The Material Risks Inherent in the Chiropractic Adjustment

All patient care, including chiropractic treatment, has the potential for negative effects. The risks associated with chiropractic treatments include, but are not limited to, dislocations and sprains, disc injuries, fractures, and strokes. These negative effects are very rare but nevertheless exist. The Doctors at ChiroTrendz Family Chiropractic and Wellness Center will develop a treatment plan recommending what they feel is in your best interest based on clinical examination, patient history, and professional experience.

The Probability of Those Risks Occurring

Fractures are rare occurrences and generally result from some underlying weakness of the bone which your doctor looks for during your initial consultation, examination, and while reviewing your x-rays if indicated or recommended. Stroke has been the subject of tremendous disagreement. The incidence of a stroke is exceedingly rare and is estimated to occur between one in one million and one in five million adjustments of the neck. The other complications are also generally described as rare.

The Availability and Nature of Other Treatment Options

Other treatment options for your condition may include: Self-administered, over-the-counter analgesics and rest, Medical care and prescription drugs such as anti-inflammatory, muscle relaxants and pain-killers, Hospitalization, and Surgery

If you choose to use one of the above noted "other treatment" options, you should be aware that there are risks and benefits of such options and you may wish to discuss these with your primary care physician.

Overuse of over-the-counter medications produces undesirable side effects. If complete rest is impractical, premature return to work and household chores may aggravate the condition and extend the recovery time. The probability of such complications arising is dependent upon the patient's overall health, severity of discomfort, their pain tolerance, and their self-discipline in not abusing the medication.

Professional literature describes highly undesirable effects from long term use of over-the-counter medications.

Prescription muscle relaxants and pain killers can produce undesirable side effects and patient dependence. The risk of such complications arising is dependent upon the patient’s overall health, severity of discomfort, their pain tolerance, their self-discipline in not abusing the medication, and proper professional supervision. Such medications generally entail very significant risks – some with rather high probabilities.

Hospitalization in conjunction with other care, bears the additional risk of exposure to communicable diseases, iatrogenic (doctor induced) mishap and expense. The probability of iatrogenic mishap is remote, expense is certain; exposure to communicable disease is likely with adverse results from such exposure being dependent upon many variables.

The risks inherent with surgery include adverse reaction to anesthesia, iatrogenic (doctor induced) mishap, all risks associated with hospitalization, and an extended convalescent period. The probability of those risks occurring varies to many factors.

The Risks and Dangers Attendant to Remaining Untreated

Remaining untreated may allow the formation of adhesions and reduce mobility of your joints which may set up a pain reaction further reducing mobility and overall range of motion. Over time this process may compromise your recovery making treatment more difficult and less effective the longer it is postponed. The probability that non-treatment will complicate a later rehabilitation is very high.

The Chiropractic Examination

Prior to establishing a treatment plan, the doctor must perform a Chiropractic Examination in order to determine the probable cause of your complaint. During the examination the doctor will perform some procedures or maneuvers intended to reproduce your symptoms which will allow for a better understanding of the nature of your condition and for the development of an appropriate treatment regimen. There is a slight possibility that these maneuvers may temporarily aggravate your symptoms.

Documented Patient Noncompliance

Every effort will be made to help you achieve maximum health. It is important to keep your appointments and follow through with the prescribed treatment plan. We understand busy schedules and anticipate these as a part of life, however, please be courteous and inform us of any conflicts in scheduling immediately so that we may accommodate you accordingly and schedule other patients in need. If the noncompliance reaches the point of jeopardizing “good quality care,” we may formally discharge you as a patient with an appropriate letter of withdrawal. Your patient records will note such problems of noncompliance and you will be provided an alternative source of recovery.
